

*“His tummy
rumbled, he felt
hungry, and he wanted his mother.
Then little Snow
Bear smelled
something familiar.
FISH!”*

In nursery we have been nurturing the children's curiosity. As part of our Birches Values and linked with the class text, "Snow Bear" we allowed the children to explore a Polar bears supper of rainbow trout and sea bream. The children's reactions were all different. The activity prompted some really good comments from the children, allowing them to extend their language and communication skills. Well Done Nursery.
