

THINGS YOU CAN DO!

1. Talk to elderly relative and list the way that their childhood was different to yours.
2. Draw a family tree for your family or somebody you know.
3. Build a replica castle and label the different parts.
4. Read a story set in a different time.
5. Interview a family member about a historical event they lived through or witnessed.
6. Design your own page from a Horrible Histories book.

7. Create a list of interview questions you might ask a famous historical figure.
8. Find out about a local industry from the past. Create a job advert, for someone in the local area that might want a job at the time. What skills what they need?
9. Draw a picture of somewhere in your local area showing people what it looked like in the past.
10. Write a letter to a local MP, explaining why you would like a monument built in your local area. Make sure you tell them who it is for and why.
11. Pretend to be a famous person for the day.
12. Watch a historical TV series with a member of your family.

Try to get as much evidence to prove you have done them.*

PLACES YOU COULD VISIT!

1. Visit a museum and pick up a free leaflet.
2. Visit a local War Memorial and take a pencil rubbing of two interesting names.
3. Visit the library and research a local person or one of the people that appear on our banknotes.
4. Is your local park named after somebody? Visit the park and find out about the person it's named after.
5. Go to your high street. Now work out how it has changed - what buildings are still the same? Can you find old pictures of what it used to look like? What shops are no longer in business?
6. Go to your local church - is there anyone interesting buried in the graveyard?
7. Go for a walk along the oldest footpath you can find.
